FmHA facility/utility loans noted

Community facility loans and water and waste disposal loans approved in the Farmville District Office by Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) through Community Programs totaled $5,575,000 during fiscal year 1984, according to FmHA district director, Otis W. Dailey.

Community facilities loans totaling $4,775,000 were approved during the year. These loans were made for such purposes as constructing, enlarging, or improving fire stations, libraries, hospitals, health clinics, community buildings or other essential community facilities. Loans approved included the Community Memorial Hospital for renovations in South Hill, Virginia.

Loans and grants approved under the Water and Waste Disposal Program of the FmHA totaled $800,000. These loans and grants are made to public entities and nonprofit corporations to construct, repair, improve, or expand rural water supply and distribution facilities and waste collection and treatment facilities.

The Town of Louisa received a loan for the purpose of constructing a waste water treatment facility during the past year.

FmHA is authorized to provide financial assistance in rural areas and towns up to 10,000 people to develop water and waste disposal facilities and in rural towns up to 20,000 people for other essential community facilities. Borrowers must be unable to obtain needed funds from other sources at reasonable rates and terms. Grant funds are available for water and waste disposal facilities only. Community Programs loans and grants are administered by seven District Offices located throughout Virginia.

ASCS Today

We encourage feed grain producers to consider the program benefits in relation to their farm operations and take advantage of the opportunity to control carryover stocks by placing 10 percent of their feed grain base in the acreage conservation reserve.

Signup for the 1985 acreage reduction programs began on Oct. 15 and will run through March 1, 1985.

TOBACCO MARKETING CARDS - Fire-cured tobacco marketing cards have been mailed to producers who have filed pesticides, agreement to contribute to No Net Cost Tobacco Fund, and nesting certifications. Producers who have not received their cards may stop by the ASCS office to pick them up.

Burley tobacco marketing cards can also be picked up at the ASCS office.

Operators or owners of the farm must pick up the cards unless power of attorney has been given for someone else to pick them up.

Last year's 4-H projects have been judged and will be returned to members at their December meeting. Each completed project received ribbon awards based on the Danish System (blue, red, or white) and the members submitting the most outstanding projects will be recognized at the annual 4-H Awards Banquet in January.
